HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 26.-Delegates, political leaders and sightseers from all over the state are arriving in great numbers, and the indications are that the Republican state convention on Wednesday will be the largest in point of attendance ever held in the state. They appear to be afraid the other side is investing large sums of money in this way. On the other hand the administration leaders say Senator Quay's bribery talk is an evidence of weakness and an illustration of the hopeless character of his contest. "He is preparing to ex-
